Lane Closures Planned in Final Weekend Push to Complete Northbound Express Lane

(Austin, Texas) – With the goal of opening the new northbound MoPac Express Lane by Saturday, October 7th, construction crews will be working throughout the weekend of September 29th to complete roadway striping, and to install express lane delineator posts. Much of the work will occur at night, but a moving left lane closure is expected during the day on Saturday, September 30th, and if necessary, on Sunday, October 1st. The left lane closure will occur on northbound State Loop 1 (MoPac) between 35th Street and RM 2222 (Northland Drive). The closure is likely to cause travel delays and drivers may want to consider alternate routes.

Overnight lane and ramp closures will occur from 9:00 p.m. on Friday, September 29th to 8:00 a.m. on Saturday September 30th and from 10:00 p.m. on Saturday, September 30th to 10:00 a.m. on Sunday, October 1st. There will also be lane closures starting at 7:00 p.m. on Sunday, October 1st. A detailed listing of overnight lane closures is posted each afternoon at www.mopacexpress.com.

The closures will be dependent upon suitable weather conditions.
